

2013 summer webinternship

The Lubbock Symphony Orchestra is invested in providing real-world experience to talented collegians from the campus of Texas Tech University. The LSO's 'Inspiring Interns' Program provides rewarding internships in the arenas of Web Support, Education, Marketing, and Design. The program offers hands-on work experience in a creative environment within the region's largest cultural arts organization. Acceptance into the program is competitive and internships are non-compensatory. Interns contribute approximately 10 hours per week to the LSO. In some cases this work may be used toward class credit. Information about the summer web internship is listed to the right.

JOB PROFILE>

Review LSO website regularly to assist in its functionality, accuracy and visual appeal. Work with Marketing Department to update content of website, including advertisements and LSO news. Supply creative input to Marketing Director to make further improvements to the website. Experience in Joomla is required.

CANDIDATE PROFILE>

Highly organized; self-motivated; excellent problem-solving skills; thorough knowledge of Microsoft Office and social media, including Facebook and Twitter demonstrating exceptional talent, personal responsibility, professionalism, and a fierce work ethic. Experience in web design is required. Experience in Joomla is required. Musical background is preferred, but not required.

CONTACT>

For more information about the Inspiring Interns Program, check the LSO website @ lubbocksymphony.org or to apply, contact Trace Boyd, Director of Marketing. Send cover letter, resume and writing sample to: tboyd@lubbocksymphony.org.